RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

On January 28, 2021, Jeanine John filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that she suffered a shoulder injury related to vaccine administration (“SIRVA”) as a result of influenza (“flu”) and pneumococcal conjugate (“PCV-13”) vaccines that were administered on October 13, 2020. Petition at 1. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

inflammation, or dysfunction in her right shoulder; her pain and reduced range of motion occurred within 48 hours of receipt of an intramuscular vaccination; her symptoms were limited to the shoulder in which the vaccine was administered; and no other condition or abnormality was identified to explain her symptoms.” Id. at 4. Respondent further agrees that “the records show that [P]etitioner timely filed her case, that she received the flu and PCV-13 vaccinations in the United States, and that she satisfies the statutory severity requirement by suffering the residual effects or complications of her injury for more than six months after vaccine administration”. Id.

In view of Respondent’s position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
